

TO ENLIST TEN
NEW REGIMENTSOrder Issued Today By Secretary Alger.PRESIDENT APPOINTS ADDI-TIONAL COLONELS.

Spanish Commissioners Unable to Arrange for the Release of Prisoners in the Hands of the Filipinos—An Extended Conference With Aguinaldo—Report That Americans Captured Are Held in Towns on the Northwest Coast of Island.

Washington, July 6.—[Special]—An order for the enlistment of ten new regiments of infantry was issued today by Secretary Alger.

The order calls for unmarried men, to serve two years in the Philippines. No restrictions are placed on citizenship, or educational qualifications. The regiments are to be organized at the following places: Fort Sheridan, Ill., Vancouver barracks, Wash., Camp Mead, Pa., Plattsburg, barracks, N. Y., Ft. McPherson, Ga., Ft. Leavenworth, Kas., Ft. San Houslan, Tex. and Ft. Logan, Colo.

No Release for Spanish Prisoners.

Manila, July 6.—[Special]—The Spanish commissioners are unable to arrange for the release of the prisoners in the hands of the Filipinos. They had an extended conference with Aguinaldo, but the only releases they could procure were those of a handful of men who had been garriaged at Baler. The commissioners returned to Manila tonight. They report that the Americans who were captured by the Filipinos were held in two towns on the northwest coast of the island.

President Appoints Colonels

Washington, July 6.—[Special]—The president today appointed seven additional colonels of the volunteer regiments for the Philippines as follows: Twenty-Eighth, Capt. James Pettit; Twenty-Ninth, Capt. Edward Hardin; Thirty-Second, Capt. L. A. Crigg; Thirty-Third, Col. Luther Hare; Thirty-Fifth, Major William Robbe; Thirtieth, Capt. Cornelius Gardner.

Washington, July 6.—The president Wednesday announced the appointment of Col. Edmond Rice to be senior colonel of the ten who are to be selected to command the new volunteer regiments for the Philippines.

The president has decided to make his selections for the general officers of the new regiments almost exclusively from the regular establishment. The company officers, such as captains and lieutenants, will be appointed from volunteers who served during the war with Spain. There will be about 330 such appointments, and the president's plan contemplates the apportionment of them among the various states. According to this, Illinois should be entitled to about twenty, in an almost equal proportion of captains and lieutenants.

The enlistments for the new regiments will be commenced next week. It is the intention to organize three regiments in the Philippines and nine here, but fear is expressed at the war department that Gen. Otis will fail to get enough men to form the skeleton of three regiments, in which case, it will be necessary to form ten here and leave but two for him to organize.

To avoid the possibility of confusion it was decided to designate the new regiments the Twenty-sixth, Twenty-seventh, Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, Thirtieth, Thirty-first, Thirty-second, Thirty-third, Thirty-fourth and Thirty-fifth infantry, so that they may not conflict with the twenty-five infantry regiments now in the regular arm.

But now that the Cuban army is practically all paid off, and that problem settled, the authorities appear to deem it wise to make a clean-up of all arms, especially in Santiago, where yellow fever may put the American troops in a condition in which it would not be easy for them to put down even a serious form of brigandage.

The house was found to have been rummaged over and then set on fire. It looked like the work of burglars and the girl's explanation was accepted until the chief of police put the girl in a sweat box.

COSTS OF RUNNING WISCONSIN CITIES

JANESVILLE COMPARES FAVOR- ABLY WITH THE REST.

Secretary Sparling, of the League of Municipalities, Receives Reports From Thirty Places—Bower City Spends $25,000 on Schools in 1898 Some Interesting Data.

Reports to Secretary Sparling of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities from some thirty cities show that Janesville compares favorably with the rest.

Secretary Sparling sent out blanks to clerks of cities asking for data. Some thirty cities have already replied and from these reports have been collected the following information: There is great need of a uniform system of municipal bookkeeping and of official, compulsory reports to the state. New York state has such a system and at the Fond du Lac convention an attempt is being made to "resolve" in favor of such a system in Wisconsin.

The replies obtained by the Wisconsin league must be taken with great caution for comparative purposes. One city gives its population "official," perhaps in 1895; another "estimated" today. One city gives its indebtedness without reference to the sinking fund offset; another may report a "net," with reduction made. The "total municipal revenue" of a city, may include the school income, or may not. One municipality conducts its schools; another turns the schools and their finances over to a school board. And so on down the list.

Questions as to public ownership of utilities show that nearly all cities have agitated the subject and those city clerks who venture an individual opinion favor municipal ownership.

It appears that apart from waterworks, not many "activities" are owned by cities. Hudson owns its electric lighting plant; Elroy has just voted to put in one; and Milwaukee owns a garbage disposal plant. The price of gas runs fairly uniform.

New Richmond makes a full report—the little city of 2,000 people that the cyclopaedia wiped out of existence. It reported a municipal revenue of $8,815 for 1898; and a tax valuation for municipal purposes of $475,000. Its electric light plant had a 30-year franchise, Dr. Epley being president. The city had 2 1/2 miles of water mains. There were 600 volumes in the public library.

The extent of water mains is interesting: Green Bay reports 37 miles, Madison 30, Janesville 20, Ashland 24, thus following a population basis quite accurately. Portage reports five miles, and Hudson with considerable less population, 12 miles.

For purpose of comparison eighteen cities were taken in the preparation of this article. The population ranges all the way from Milwaukee's 250,000 to 1,800 for Viroqua and Evansville—the latter the biggest community in the state on a no-license basis. The school census shows 93,638 Milwaukee children in schools. For some reason Neenah reports a bigger school census than Baraboo—2,212 to 1,515—though the population of both is given at 6,000. Menomonie, where Senator Stout has done so much good work, has a disproportionate number of school children, 2,404, of a 7,000 population. The item "total municipal revenue," shows that Madison (18,000 population) is spending lots of money. It reports $858,071, as against $100,300 for Janesville, smaller by perhaps 3,000. Ashland with 14,000 people, lies in the "expansion" belt, and raised $122,000 in 1898. Madison is the richest of the three cities evidently, having a tax valuation of $7,992,000; Janesville has $4,481,000; Ashland, $3,730,000. Beloit raised $65,806 on $2,281,676 valuation. Menomonie $71,500 on $1,533,825. Baraboo raised $54,143. Portage $49,000 on $1,620,278. Monroe, though smaller, raised $57,287 on $1,983,824. Hudson is very little bigger than Mineral Point (3,000). They raised $28,000 and $24,000 respectively. That some rule of uniformity obtains is also shown by Viroqua and Evansville. Both have 1,800 people. They report $500,000 and $575,685 in valuation respectively and raise $5,000 and $6,000 respectively.

When we come to indebtedness of cities we find wide differences. Beginning with these two little cities of equal population. Evansville owes $9,500 only; Viroqua, $12,000. But Viroqua owns a water plant. It never does to frown on a city for debt until one as—

"Waste Not, Want Not."

Little leaks bring to want, and little impurities of the blood, if not attended to, bring a "Want" of health. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the one and only specific that will remove all blood humors and impurities, thereby putting you into a condition of perfect health.

Bad Stomach—"Headaches and tired feeling, bad condition of stomach, caused me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. It stopped all faint trouble." Charles Bower, Glens Falls, N. Y.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Never Disappoints

Hood's Pills cure liver ills; the non-irritating and certainly how far it has gone in buying "activities" that other cities leave in private ownership. Mineral Point (3,000 pop.) has a safe debt of $15,000. Hudson (3,338 pop.) owes $34,000 but owns its lighting plant. Neenah and Baraboo (both 6,000 pop.) owe $65,000 and $58,400 respectively; but Neenah owns its water plant, while in Baraboo every "utility" is in private hands. Menomonie, with 1,000 more population, owes about the same—$59,000. Its "activities" are privately owned except a remarkable school system. Beloit with 9,000 people owes but $11,000 if the city clerk has properly reported; but that city has no utilities in its hand, having recently refused to buy its waterworks if we remember correctly. Ashland and Janesville with about the same population—owe in the one case (Janesville) $55,000 and in Ashland's case ten times as much, an enormous indebtedness, but contracted in the days when it thought itself a city of destiny. Janesville's population is but a few thousands short of Madison; but there is a prodigious difference in their debts. Janesville $56,000, Madison $356,000. However, Madison owns a $350,000 water plant and a $100,000 sewerage system. Fond du Lac, $105,000. Green Bay, $178,283, La Crosse, $396,466. The average length of franchise granted is thirty years. Neenah has given a perpetual franchise to its electric lighting company, but not an exclusive one. Janesville has an indefinite franchise out. Madison's term is forty years; so is Beloit to the water company—to other companies, twenty years. Ashland's water franchise is for fifty years. Neenah's street railway, thirty years. Green Bay and Fond du Lac limit corporation privileges to thirty years. Ashland, for street car company and lighting, fifteen years. Menomonie, thirty for water company, five for electric lighting. Portage and Monroe, twenty years. Hudson twenty-five and thirty years. Viroqua and Evansville, three years.

Fond du Lac spent $28,000 on schools in 1898. Madison with an equal population, spent $47,610—yet intelligent Madisonians believe their schools do not receive enough of the tax money. Janesville spent $25,500.

This table will prove suggestive. It shows school expenditure for one year:

City	Pop.	Amt.
Ashland	14,000	$38,900
Beloit	9,000	21,479
Madison	25,000	29,000
Baraboo	6,000	21,433
Monroe	4,000	14,302
Hudson	3,338	10,000
Mineral Point	3,000	8,000
Viroqua	1,800	1,800
Evansville	1,800	6,889

CAUGHT BY CUPID

Snyder-Fitzgibbons

Yesterday afternoon at half after four o'clock at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. J. F. Pender, No. 4 Cherry street, occurred the marriage of Miss Louise Fitzgibbons and Charles E. Snyder, both of this city. The ceremony was witnessed by only a few of the relatives and intimate friends of the happy twain. Mrs. Mattie Snyder, sister of the groom, played a beautiful wedding march and during the discourse, the bride couple entered the parlor unattended and stood beneath a pretty canopy of green. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Robert O. Denison, pastor of the Congregational church. After congratulations and best wishes had been extended, the guests sat down to a most inviting wedding feast, prepared by the able caterer, Mrs. Louise Bowerman. The bride was presented with many valuable presents as tokens of esteem in which she is held by her friends who are legion. She is the only daughter of Mrs. Rose Fitzgibbons, and a niece of Dr. J. F. Pender. The groom is in the employ of the plumbing firm of McVicar Bros., and is a most industrious young man. The bride and groom have numerous friends who wish them unbounded happiness down the pathway of life yet before them.

Mr. and Mrs. Snyder departed on the 7:20 train last evening for Chicago. When they return they will reside temporarily with Dr. and Mrs. Pender, and later will go to housekeeping on Center avenue in a house owned by Mrs. Rose Fitzgibbons.

NEWS OF THE VILLAGES TRIB- UTARY TO JANESVILLE.

Interesting Bit of Gossip Received From The Gazette's Corps of Correspondents Throughout Old Rock of Doings in Their Respective Localities.

Richmond, July 6.—Many people were disappointed on the Fourth, on account of the rain. Whitewater would certainly have had an enormous crowd of visitors, as many intended going there on their wheels. However, the rain did much good in this section. But very few were present at the annual meeting of the Scrabble district school board. Several changes were made in the rules. For the coming year, it was voted and carried, to raise $150 and hire an experienced teacher, as during the last year or two, teachers at a salary of $20 per month, have proven very unsatisfactory, and we trust that by paying $25 per month, good results in the school may be expected. It was also submitted in the rules that teachers for the ensuing year are hired under contract, and that all accounts turned in by the school clerk and treasurer, be itemized. E. Stoller was elected school clerk for the next term. Mr. H. Calkins, who has been clerk for the past twelve years, received the contract to furnish the wood at $4.79 per cord. Mr. and Mrs. De Vine, of Beloit, are spending a few days with Mrs. De Vine's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kemmitt. Will Gage and family, of Whitewater, visited Mrs. Peterson last week. Andrew Peterson and family, of Johnstown, visited at Mrs. Peterson's, Sunday. Rye harvesting will be begun this week. Barley will soon follow. A great portion of the grain has been lodged by the recent rains. Charles Stoller, of Johnstown, has Mr. Beisenburg's new home under good headway. The case of Fred Behlman vs. the State of Wisconsin was held over for the fall term of the circuit court. The ice cream social held at the M. E. church last Thursday night was fairly well attended, notwithstanding the bad weather. Those who had floats ready for the Fourth, thought it had not rained enough to warrant floating them. Emory Holbrook purchased a new binder and mower of Steward & Langley, of Delavan, last week. George Johnson, son of Lewis Johnson, received a bicycle as a present from his aunt, Miss Clara Daly, of Chicago.

North Johnstown

North Johnstown, July 6.—The church was newly papered last week, and is being painted and otherwise repaired. Mr. Halverson, of Whitewater, has the contract for the work. The re-opening will occur one week from next Sunday. In the meantime services are being held in the school house. Mrs. Maggie Cary, of Janesville, visited relatives here from Tuesday until Saturday. Miss Lizzie Wright closed her school Friday with a picnic in Rice's woods. H. R. Osborn returned home Friday from his western trip, which proved to be one of both pleasure and profit. She visited many places of interest. H. Tooker returned from Viola, Tuesday. His mother remained for a more extended visit with her sister, Mrs. Esther Snow. The W. C. T. U. meeting will be held with Mrs. H. Walker Thursday of this week. There was a large attendance at the Christian Endeavor meeting Sunday evening. Several were present from Ueters Corners and the town line. The parsonage is receiving a fresh coat of paint. O. N. Beyers and wife, E. C. Cary and Jesse Stone attended the carnival at Milwaukee. Miss Edna Fuller, of Millard, has been spending several days with her friend, Minnie Brotherton. George Mackey and daughter Myrtis, of Milton Junction, were here Friday. The school meeting, which was postponed on account of the rain, will be held next Monday evening.

Lima Center.

Lima Center, July 6.—Mrs. Freeman, of Whitewater, was an over Sunday visitor at James Richmond's. Miss Julia Royce and Mrs. Myrie Bortol are entertaining their brother, James Royce, and niece and nephew, of Minnesota. The ice cream social at O. L. Bennett's was quite well attended and a success, financially. A number from here attended the carnival at Milwaukee. Miss Edna Fuller, of Heart Prairie, is visiting friends here. Miss Effie Truman left last Friday for a two months' visit with Rockford friends. The Ladies Aid society of the M. E. church will hold a social at Holbrook lawn next Saturday evening. Ice cream will be served and all are invited to attend. George Fuller, of Heart Prairie, was a caller in this vicinity last Saturday and Sunday.

Lima

Lima, July 6.—Miss Maggie Campbell, of Milwaukee, is spending the week with her sister, Mrs. Nugent. School meeting Monday night. Rev. Bray has returned from Michigan. Mrs. J. J. Rindon and children of Rhinelander, Wis., and Mrs. T. J. Sheridan and daughter, of Grand Rapids, Mich., visited at Fred Gould's last week. Alice Carroll spent several days of last week in Milwaukee. Miss Keayon came from Richland Center Saturday to spend the Fourth with her sister, Cora. Jessie Bowers is visiting in Milton. Our boys defeated the Johnstown nine last Saturday afternoon. HARD SLAP AT GOV. PINGREE.

McLeod Law Is Declared to Be Unconstitutional and Void.

Lansing, Mich., July 6.—The Michigan Supreme court on Wednesday decided the case brought to test the validity of the McLeod law, which authorized the appointment of the Detroit street railway commission, whose object was the purchase and municipal ownership and operation of street railways of Detroit.

The decision is that the law is unconstitutional; that there is no such office as the "Detroit street railway commission;" that Gov. Pingree and the other commissioners have no title thereto, and that judgment of ouster must be entered against them.

The Detroit plan for municipal ownership had been temporarily blocked by the legal difficulties in the way of holding a special election on the question. By the decision all authority is taken from the commission.

Turkey Floats the Crescent.

Washington, July 6.—Turkey was the only one of the foreign nations represented by legations in Washington that recognized the existence of the great national holiday. The crescent swung to the breeze early in the morning and remained a solitary foreign tribute to the Fourth of July. When Secretary Hay's attention was called to the contrast emphasized by the Turkish minister's act, he said: "The relations between the United States and Turkey are very cordial indeed. The sultan is very friendly to us. The action of the Turkish minister is a mark of unusual friendliness, but the lack of flags at the other residences is by no means a mark of disrespect."

Ameer's Life in Danger.

London, July 6.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Globe says advices have been received there from Kabul, capital of Afghanistan, that an Afghan, recently discharged a rifle point-blank at the ameer, but missed him, the bullet lodging in the shoulder of a general standing near by. The advices also say that the ameer's brother, Ishak Khan, attempted to bribe a cook to poison the ameer, and that when the plot was discovered Ishak fled into Russian Asia and the cook was hanged.

Janesville Endorsement Is What Counts With the Janesville Public.

You can't fool the public all the time. They will find you out at last. Every time a man is fooled another skeptic is made. Many the remedy that makes the skeptic. It fails to keep its promises. Doan's Kidney Pills bring renewed reward. They cure the skeptic. Plenty of proof of this at home. Janesville proofs for Janesville people. Our citizens say they cure backache. Cure urinary disorders. Cure sick kidneys. Experience has taught them this is so. Conviction for every sufferer. In the testimony of friends and neighbors. Read this case:

Mr. A. F. Lee, of 51 Sharon St., carpenter, says:

"I can most strongly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for kidney complaint. I took mine was contracted in the army where I served in Co. D, 2nd Wis. Inf. For the last twenty years it troubled me a great deal, many days I could hardly keep at my work, and by rights should have laid at home and doctored. It was seldom that my back did not ache, and I have been completely laid up for three or four days at a stretch. When stooping or lifting sharp twinges penetrated the kidneys, the secretions from these organs were too frequent, and accompanied by pain. I used all kinds of remedies but none gave permanent relief. Obtaining Doan's Kidney Pills at the People's Drug Co., I took them, and after the first three or four doses a noticeable change was brought about. I improved steadily from then on and on completing the treatment I was in good condition and am now well. I do not feel anything of the trouble now and consequently take pleasure in recommending the remedy which did so much for me."

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no other.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY.

1802—General Daniel Morgan, American Revolutionary hero, died at Winchester, Va. Morgan was a gallant border soldier in the numerous Indian wars of the colony of Virginia. His first service in the Revolution was in Arnold's march to Quebec. Gen. Morgan, here he led a band of picked riflemen, hardy Virginia mountaineers. In the great assault when Montgomery fell and Arnold was disabled Morgan fought his way into the town.

1835—John Marshall, noted chief justice of the United States, died in Philadelphia; born 1755.

1856—Paul H. Hayne, southern poet, died near Augusta, Ga.; born 1820.

1897—Guy de Maupassant, a master in the French school of naturalistic writers, died in Paris; born in 1850.

1898—General Pierce Manning Butler Young, a distinguished Confederate cavalryman, died in New York city; born 1833.

1899—Bill for the annexation of Hawaii signed by President McKinley.

THE NEXT GOVERNOR

These days are long and full of joy for The Milwaukee Journal. The Journal is making and unmaking public officers in every issue, and having more fun than a boy at a circus. The articles make interesting reading, and that is what The Journal seeks to dispense at all times. If the information that The Journal gives worries the politicians, it is their own fault—they do not have to "walk the floor" unless they want to.

Just at present The Journal's chief joy is to create governors, and publish articles calculated to insert ground glass in the mental porridge of all the powers that be—or would like to be—of both parties. This is certainly a very harmless amusement, and causes the interested parties to watch for the coming of The Journal each evening with some curiosity, but the articles are published for what they are worth, and usually pass at their true value.

The Journal, doubtless, is willing to admit that the selection of a governor is a matter of the dim and distant future. Many booms will be born to die before the state convention is held. Circumstances alter cases, and the popular idol of today often becomes the "has-been" of tomorrow. The man who has the strength on the day that the state convention nominates, is the one who will get the plum.

In the meantime, however, speculation on the subject can do no harm. Dozens of good men will be mentioned in connection with the high office, before the delegates get together, but "the man with the votes" will win. And he may get all his votes in a single day. "The race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong," and the man of whom the least is said is quite as likely to win out as the one whose name is greeted by the loudest cheers.

Time will tell, but at present, no one else knows much about the subject.

The president, upon the recommendation of Congressman Cooper, has appointed C. S. Button postmaster at Milton Junction. Mr. Button is one of the well known business men of Rock county, and his appointment will give universal satisfaction.

The "anti-imperialistic press" will now have another spasm. Sergeant Fritz, late of the volunteer signal corps at Manila, says that General Otis isn't doing right, and should be relieved of his command.

The cannon cracker seems to become more deadly as the years roll on. A few years ago, the crackers were all harmless, but the aim, nowadays, seems to be to make them as destructive as possible.

An effort was made to catch a pud-muck for the circus parade, but the pud-dies all retired to the fastness of the ostrich farm, and refused to allow themselves to be caught.

Englishmen joined with the London Americans in celebrating the Fourth. The Britons and the Yankees seem to get along pretty well these days.

Illinois has stopped horse racing by enacting a pool selling law, but we note that no objection was made to the drivers at the golf tournament.

Oshkosh is to have a new jail. The assumption is, of course, that the old one is full to overflowing, but on this point deponent is silent.

The Americans in Havana celebrated the Fourth with all due formality, while the Cuban boys shot fire crackers as to the manor born.

Tammany's well laid plans to launch the boom of Augustus Van Wyck failed, as the participants all cheered for Bryan and free silver.

Of course Janesville people knew how to get up a circus. Burr Robbins used to live in this town.

Dreyfus is unable to comprehend the magnitude of the plot against him—and so are many others.

TO IMPROVE STREET RAILWAY SERVICE

SUPT. HURD PROMISES BETTER FACILITIES.

Round Trip Pleasure Ride at One Fare—Run New Cars to Cemeteries Beginning Next Saturday at 2:15 O'Clock—Other Changes Will Also Take Place.

Janesville street car service is to be improved in a manner that will be most gratifying to the public. In an interview with Superintendent George J. Hurd at his home No. 3 North Jackson street as to the coming improvements he said:

"Beginning next Saturday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock an extra car will be put on, running between the power house and the cemeteries. This car will run every afternoon, beginning at 2:15. If this proves successful another car will be put on, running from the Milton avenue end of the line to the cemeteries, starting at the same time—2:15. These cars will be especially for those who desire to visit the cemeteries.

"To encourage pleasure riding," continued Supt. Hurd, "after seven o'clock every evening during the warm weather round trip rides will be given over the lines for five cents; that is, provided the passenger remains on the car for the entire trip. No transfers will be given, and this fact should be thoroughly understood. If a passenger gets on at Jackson street they will be taken around the line and brought back to their starting place. This plan will be in force at 7 o'clock Saturday night. Passengers who intend taking the round trip will confer a favor on the conductor by notifying him when he collects the fare that they intend taking the round trip.

When asked what would be done by the company with regard to building the extension in Oak Hill cemetery as requested by the cemetery association, Mr. Hurd said:

"We may conclude to build that later," said Supt. Hurd. "We have estimated the expense and find that to build the proposed extension of 1,660 feet will cost in the neighborhood of $1,400, and the cemetery association agree to do all the grading ready for the rails with the exception of that done on the street outside the grounds."

With the two new cars which will be put in service there will be six cars in all on the lines. Supt. Hurd has been confined to his bed for some time with a fever, and notwithstanding this fact he has figured out a plan for street car convenience that will be much appreciated.

Designs of Automobiles.

Observant men are calling attention to the designs of automobiles and remarking that none of the makers seem to be able to get away from the style of vehicle that has been designed to run behind a horse. All the automobiles have dashboards, for instance, contrivances that were originally intended to protect the driver from the mud of the roadway thrown up by the hoofs of the horse. As the automobiles, being horseless, must also be hoofless, the dashboard seems superfluous. So far no one has designed an automobile with a whip socket, but it seems likely that some one will as the styles multiply. After all, considering the liability to accident in the machinery, it is perhaps as well to have the dashboard and the whip socket. A pair of shafts, which could be drawn back under the body of the carriage, might prove useful occasionally, should one discover that his gasoline or compressed air was giving out some distance from home.

PHYSICAL DIRECTOR RESIGNS POSITION

J. F. RUDOLPH LEAVES THE LOCAL Y. M. C. A.

Will Go to Cleveland, Where He Will Take Up the Study of Medicine—
Has Rendered Good Service Here
—Association Held Interesting Banquet Last Evening.

J. F. Rudolph, who since last September, has filled the position of physical director of the Janesville Y. M. C. A. has resigned his position, and will leave tomorrow for Cleveland, Ohio, where he will take up the study of medicine.

Since being connected with the local association, Mr. Rudolph has rendered valuable services in the gymnasium department and it has been mainly through his untiring efforts that the work in that department has kept up a high standard. He was a prime favorite with all the members of the association who will greatly regret his departure.

Just what will fill the position made vacant by the resignation of Mr. Rudolph, is a question that Secretary Kline is at present unable to answer, but that a man well versed in the work required in a first class gymnasium should be engaged, is the light in which all members of the board of directors look at the question.

Association Gave Banquet.
The monthly banquet of the members of the Y. M. C. A. band was held in their rooms in the building last evening, and business matters of much importance was transacted.

The band will be incorporated under the laws of the state, and will be known as the Y. M. C. A. Cornet band.

It was also decided to purchase a lot at Delavan Lake. The lot in view is a beautiful one, 70x90 feet, and faces the east. It is a most desirable one, and in close proximity to the large assembly hall. It is on the highest elevation, and has excellent drainage. It will be put in shape for occupancy immediately, and without doubt the members of the band will derive much pleasure out of their investment.

The band will play at the Delavan Lake Chautauqua on Sunday and Monday, July 30 and 31, and Saturday and Sunday, August 5 and 6.

There were but two musical numbers given last evening, a clarinet and trombone duet by F. F. Lewis and O. W. Bucklin and a clarinet solo by Glen Coleman. Other members were expected to play, but failed to do so. L. A. Williams was the critic for the evening.

ARMORY BLOCK CAUGHT FIRE

Lighted Cigar Came Near Causing a Most Serious Fire.

A serious fire was narrowly averted in the Armory block, corner of Milwaukee and Franklin streets, early yesterday morning.

When the dancers departed from the A. O. U. party, some one threw a lighted cigar in one corner of the room.

When John Heffernon went to the hall yesterday morning, he found smoke in the room, and on closer investigation found the woodwork scorched as the result of the cigar.

The smoldering fire was easily extinguished.

HERBERT RUSCH RECOVERING

The unfortunate boy suffers severe internal pains caused by falling on his back.

ARQUETTE'S CASE AGAIN ADJOURNED

DEFENDANT IN COURT THIS MORNING.

The State Will File Its Information
On Next Tuesday Morning—John Cunningham Appeared In Behalf of the Prisoner—Other Court Matters
Today.

John Arquette, accompanied by his three daughters, the eldest being but eight years of age, entered the municipal court room this morning in charge of Sheriff Appleby.

Arquette has been in jail during the past few weeks on the charge of having set fire to the Dillon & Dixon training stable at the fair grounds.

At 10 o'clock District Attorney Jackson asked the court for a continuance of the case until next Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

Just what the state intends to charge the defendant with is a question that District Attorney Jackson says he is unable at present to say.

Attorney John Cunningham appeared in behalf of the defendant, and at 10:30 o'clock Arquette was remanded to jail, in default of $2,000 bail.

To a Gazette representative Arquette said this morning:

"I am innocent and that is all there is to the whole affair. When the fire took place, I went to work on the case with the hopes of bringing about the arrest of the guilty parties, but through some underhand work they have got me mixed up in the affair. When my case is called, I will not appear as my own attorney, as many think, but I will be represented by Attorney Cunningham."

David Jeffris Sues

The case of David Jeffris vs. the Janesville Driving Park Association was called in court this morning and adjourned for one week. The plaintiff brings suit for the rent of a barn at the fair grounds.

Assault Case

Thomas Dougherty was before the municipal court today on the charge of assault and battery. The complaining witness was Grace Thomas.

Dougherty went to jail for fifteen days in default of a $10 fine.

Replevin Suit

The replevin suit of Kittie R. Davis against George Mosher came up in the municipal court today.

TOLD TO DROP GOLD STANDARD

Senate Sub-Finance Committee Receives a Hint.

Narragansett Pier, R. I., July 6.—The subcommittee of the senate committee on finance, which has been in session here since Monday, has struck a snag. The trouble arose when it was proposed to insert a provision in the bill committing the party to the single gold standard. Every member of the committee favors such a provision, but some one had sent a hint that a single standard provision would jeopardize the chances of the bill passing the senate.

The republicans will have twelve majority in the next senate, but no one knows how many are for the single gold standard. Senators Wolcott, Chandler, Shoup, Clark, Warren, Carter and Mason are all sound republicans, but all favor bimetallicism.

It appears that the subcommittee had gone ahead on the idea that the party whip could be used to bring recalcitrants into line, and had been assured by President McKinley and Senator Hanna that there would be no difficulty in passing a bill with the gold standard. They were taken aback when the information to "beware of the gold standard" came to their notice. Until the committee has positive assurance that the doubtful senators are "all right" nothing will be done with the single standard.

Excursion Tickets to Woodstock, Ill.

BEYOND THE PALE.

By RUDYARD KIPLING.

Love needs not caste nor sleep a broken bed. I went in search of love and lost myself.—Hindoo Proverb.

A man should, whatever happens, keep to his own caste, race and breed. Let the white go to the white and the black to the black. Then whatever trouble falls in the ordinary course of things—neither sudden, alien nor unexpected. This is the story of a man who willfully stepped beyond the safe limits of decent everyday society and paid for it heavily.

He knew too much in the first instance, and he saw too much in the second. He took too deep an interest in native life. But he will never do so again.

Deep away in the heart of the city, behind Jitha Megji's bazaar, lies Amir Nath's gully, which ends in a dead wall pierced by one grated window. At the head of the gully is a big cowbyre, and the walls on either side of the gully are without windows. Neither Sochet Singh nor Gaur Chand approves of the women folk looking into the world. If Durga Charan had been of their opinion, he would have been a happier man today, and little Bisesa would have been able to knead her own bread. Her room looked out through the grated window into the narrow dark gully, where the sun never came and where the buffaloes wallowed in the blue slime. She was a widow, about 15 years old, and she prayed the gods day and night to send her a lover, for she did not approve of living alone.

One day the man—Trejago his name was—came into Amir Nath's gully on an aimless wandering, and after he had passed the buffaloes stumbled over a big heap of cattle food.

Then he saw that the gully ended in a trap and heard a little laugh from behind the grated window. It was a pretty little laugh, and Trejago, knowing that for all practical purposes the old "Arabian Nights" are good guides, went forward to the window and whispered that verse of "The Love Song of Har Dyal," which begins:

Can a man stand upright in the face of the naked sun or a lover in the presence of his beloved?

If my feet fail me, O heart of my heart, am I to blame, being blinded by the glimpse of your beauty?

There came the faint tchinks of a woman's bracelets from behind the grating, and a little voice went on with the song at the fifth verse:

Alas, alas! Can the moon tell the Lotus of her love when the gate of heaven is shut and the clouds gather for the rains?

They have taken my beloved and driven her with the pack horses to the north.

There are iron chains on the feet that were set on my heart.

Call to the bowmen to make ready—

The voice stopped suddenly, and Trejago walked out of Amir Nath's gully wondering who in the world could have capped "The Love Song of Har Dyal" so neatly.

Next morning, as he was driving to office, an old woman threw a packet into his dogcart. In the packet was the half of a broken glass bangle, one flower of the blood red dhak, a pinch of bhusa or cattle food and 11 cardamoms. That packet was a letter—not a clumsy, compromising letter, but an innocent unintelligible lover's epistle.

Trejago knew far too much about these things, as I have said. No Englishman should be able to translate object letters. But Trejago spread all the trifles on the lid of his office box and began to puzzle them out.

A broken glass bangle stands for a Hindoo widow all India over, because, when her husband dies, a woman's bracelets are broken on her wrists. Trejago saw the meaning of the little bit of the glass. The flower of the dhak means diversely "desire," "come," "write" or "danger," according to the other things with it. One cardamom means "jealousy," but when any article is duplicated in an object letter it loses its symbolic meaning and stands merely for one of a number indicating time, or, if incense, curds or saffron be sent also, place. The message ran then: "A widow—dhak flower and bhusa—at 11 o'clock." The pinch of bhusa enlightened Trejago. He saw—this kind of letter leaves much to instinctive knowledge—that the bhusa referred to the big heap of cattle food over which he had fallen in Amir Nath's gully, and that the message must come from the person behind the grating, she being a widow. So the message ran then: "A widow, in the gully in which is the head of bhusa, desires you to come at 11 o'clock."

So he went that very night at 11 into Amir Nath's gully, clad in a booka, which cloaks a man as well as a woman. Directly the gongs in the city made the hour the little voice behind the grating took up "The Love Song of Har Dyal" at the verse where the Paythan girl calls upon Har Dyal to return. The song is really pretty in the vernacular. In the English you miss the wall of it. It runs something like this:

Alone upon the house tops, to the north I turn and watch the lightning in the sky—The glamour of thy footsteps in the north. Come back to me, beloved, or I die!

Below my feet the still bazaar is laid; Far, far below the weary canals lie—The canals and the captives of thy raid. Come back to me, beloved, or I die!

My father's wife is old and harsh with years. And drudge of all my father's house am I. My bread is sorrow, and my drink is tears. Come back to me, beloved, or I die!

As the song stopped Trejago stepped up under the grating and whispered, "I am here."

Bisesa was good to look upon.

That night was the beginning of many strange things and of a double life so wild that Trejago today sometimes wonders if it were not all a dream. Bisesa or her old handmaiden who had thrown the object letter had detached the heavy grating from the brickwork of the wall, so that the window slid inside, leaving only a square of raw masonry into which an active man might climb.

In the daytime Trejago drove through his routine of office work or put on his calling clothes and called on the ladies of the station, wondering how long they would know him if they knew of poor little Bisesa. At night, when all the city was still, came the walk under the evil smelling booka, the patrol through Jitha Megji's bazaar, the quick turn into Amir Nath's gully between the sleeping cattle and the dead walls, and then, last of all, Bisesa and the deep, even breathing of the old woman who slept outside the door of the bare little room that Durga Charan allotted to his sister's daughter. Who or what Durga Charan was Trejago never inquired. And why in the world he was not discovered and knifed never occurred to him till his madness was over, and Bisesa—But this comes later.

Bisesa was an endless delight to Trejago. She was as ignorant as a bird, and her distorted versions of the rumors from the outside world that had reached her in her room amused Trejago almost as much as her lipping attempts to pronounce his name—Christopher. The first syllable was always more than she could manage, and she made funny little gestures with her rose leaf hands, as one throwing the name away, and then, kneeling before Trejago, asked him, exactly as an English woman would do, if he were sure he loved her. Trejago swore that he loved her more than any one else in the world, which was true.

After a month of this folly the exigencies of his other life compelled Trejago to be especially attentive to a lady of his acquaintance. The news flew in the usual mysterious fashion from mouth to mouth till Bisesa's friend heard of it and told Bisesa. The child was so troubled that she did the household work evilly and was beaten by Durga Charan's wife in consequence.

A week later Bisesa taxed Trejago with the flirtation. She understood no gradations and spoke openly. Trejago laughed, and Bisesa stamped her little feet—little feet, light as marigold flowers, that could lie in the palm of a man's one hand.

Much that is written about "oriental passion and impulsiveness" is exaggerated and compiled at secondhand, but a little of it is true, and when an Englishman finds that little it is quite as startling as any passion in his own proper life. Bisesa raged and stormed and finally threatened to kill herself if Trejago did not at once drop the alien messiah who had come between them. Trejago tried to explain and to show her that she did not understand these things from a western standpoint. Bisesa drew herself up and said simply:

"I do not. I know only this—it is not good that I should have made you dearer than my own heart to me, sahib. You are an Englishman. I am only a black girl!"—she was fairer than bar gold in the mint—"and the widow of a black man."

Then she sobbed and said: "But, on my soul and my mother's soul, I love you. There shall no harm come to you, whatever happens to me."

Trejago argued with the child and tried to soothe her, but she seemed quite unreasonably disturbed. Nothing would satisfy her save that all relations between them should end. He was to go away at once. And he went. As he dropped out at the window she kissed his forehead twice, and he walked home wondering.

A week, and then three weeks, passed without a sign from Bisesa. Trejago, thinking that the rupture had lasted quite long enough, went down to Amir Nath's gully for the fifth time in the three weeks, hoping that his rap at the sill of the shifting grating would be answered. He was not disappointed.

There was a young moon, and one stream of light fell down into Amir Nath's gully and struck the grating, which was drawn away as he knocked. From the black dark Bisesa held out her arms into the moonlight. Both hands had been cut off at the wrists, and the stumps were nearly healed.

Then, as Bisesa bowed her head between her arms and sobbed, some one in the room grunted like a wild beast, and something sharp—knife, sword or spear—thrust at Trejago in his booka. The stroke missed his body, but cut into one of the muscles of the groin, and he limped slightly from the wound for the rest of his days.

The grating went into its place. There was no sign whatever from inside the house, nothing but the moonlight strip on the high wall and the blackness of Amir Nath's gully behind. The next thing Trejago remembers, after raging and shouting like a madman between those pitiless walls, is that he found himself near the river as the dawn was breaking, threw away his booka and went home bareheaded.

What the tragedy was—whether Bisesa had in a fit of senseless despair told everything or the intrigue had been discovered and she tortured to tell, whether Durga Charan knew his name and what became of Bisesa—Trejago does not know to this day. Something horrible had happened, and the thought of what it must have been comes upon Trejago in the night now and again and keeps him company till the morning. One special feature of the case is that he does not know where lies the front of Durga Charan's house. It may open on to a courtyard common to two or more houses or it may lie behind any one of the gates of Jitha Megji's bazaar. Trejago cannot tell. He cannot get Bisesa—poor little Bisesa—back again. He has lost her in the city where each man's house is as guarded and as unknown as the grave, and the grating that opens into Amir Nath's gully has been walled up.

But Trejago pays his calls regularly and is reckoned a very decent sort of man.

There is nothing peculiar about him, except a slight stiffness, caused by a riding strain, in the right leg.

DECISION OF IMPORTANCE.

Plankinton Bank Creditors Can Make Assignee Answer.

Madison, Wis., July 6.—The creditors of the defunct Plankinton bank of Milwaukee scored a decided victory over the assignee and Judge Johnson of the Milwaukee circuit court in a decision rendered by the state supreme court Wednesday. The decision will, moreover, rank among the most important legal precedents in the history of Wisconsin, for it brings into prominence a "dead-letter" clause of the state constitution and gives the supreme court superintending authority over inferior courts.

The supreme court, it is declared, has power to step in at any stage of the progress of a legal proceeding and correct errors and direct the acts of the inferior courts. This ruling, say lawyers, will have a bearing of the utmost importance on the progress of litigation in the future.

The decision holds that the creditors of the Plankinton bank have a right to examine William Plankinton, the assignee, under oath as to his management of the assets. This was the chief demand of the attorney for the creditors. The circuit court is directed to modify or withdraw all orders made which interfere with the rights of the creditors to examine Mr. Plankinton or which treat the report made by him as final.

After deciding these points bearing directly on the case, the supreme court holds that under the superintending power given it by the constitution, it may by mandamus compel an inferior court to perform a duty imposed on such inferior court by statute, even in cases where the act is within the discretion of the lower court, when it appears the discretion has not been exercised, or where there is no remedy, not remedy the wrong and the case is by appeal, or where the appeal would of such importance that an emergency warrants the intervention.

RUNNING SORE ON HIS ANKLE.

After Six Years of Intense Suffering, Promptly Cured By S. S. S.

Obstinate sores and ulcers which refuse to heal under ordinary treatment soon become chronic and deep-seated, and are a sure sign that the entire circulation is in a depraved condition. They are a severe drain upon the system, and are constantly sapping away the vitality. In every case the poison must be eliminated from the blood, and no amount of external treatment can have any effect.

There is no uncertainty about the merits of S. S. S.; every claim made for it is backed up strongly by convincing testimony of those who have been cured by it and know of its virtues by experience.

Mr. L. J. Clark, of Orange Courthouse, Va., writes:

"For six years I had an obstinate, running ulcer on my ankle, which at times caused me intense suffering. I was so disabled for a long while that I was wholly unfit for business. One of the best doctors treated me constantly, but did me no good. I then tried various blood remedies, without the least benefit. S. S. S. was so highly recommended that I concluded to try it, and the effect was wonderful. It seemed to get right at the seat of the disease and force the poison out, and I was soon completely cured." Swift's Specific—

S. S. S. FOR THE BLOOD

—drives out every trace of impurity in the blood, and in this way cures permanently the most obstinate, deep-seated sore or ulcer. LATE NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

DOOMED TO CERTAIN DEATH.

Three Hundred Negroes Penned In by Flood.

HAVE NO AVENUE OF ESCAPE.

Raging Waters, Extending Three or Four Miles in All Directions, Surround a Small Upland on Which the Unfortunates Have Taken Refuge.

Fort Worth, Texas, July 6.—A report received here by telephone from South Texas flood points at 10 o'clock last night gives additional appalling accounts of the disaster wrought by the unprecedented flooding of the Brazos river.

Fully 200 lives are lost near Sealey, at a point called The Mound. The spot is a small upland entirely surrounded by the raging waters, extending three or four miles in all directions. On this spot are congregated 300 negroes, who are doomed to certain death, as the waters are closing in on them and there is no avenue of escape.

On another small patch of ground, out in the river, near Brookshire, is another bunch of 400 negroes, who will likely be swept away before daylight. The situation is frightful and people are panic-stricken, and unable to lend the unfortunate ones succor of any kind. From present indications the loss of life will reach 500, unless the imprisoned negroes are given assistance before daylight, which is not now thought probable.

Reports received here from Calvert and Brookshire, 100 miles down the river from Calvert, portray a fearful state of desolation and suffering, particularly among the plantation negroes, who are now hemmed in by the raging torrents.

The river is seven feet higher than ever before, and the lashing, leaping waters cover an expanse of more than five miles. Plantations along the river, near Hearne, are all under water and crops practically ruined.

It has rained continuously for eight days throughout the flooded districts, the greatest rainfall since 1842, when a similar disaster befell the people along the Brazos river, and hundreds were drowned.

Waters Rising Rapidly.
Austin, Texas, July 6.—The total number of lives known to have been lost in the Brazos and Colorado river floods, that are spread over a great area of central and southern Texas, is fully 200. There are unauthenticated reports of many more cases of drowning. Nearly all of the victims were negroes, who refused to heed the warning of the impending overflow and seek higher ground.

In Burleson county a party of twenty-two negro men, women and children were rescued from tree tops, where they had been stationed for two days. The water is subsiding along the upper source of the Brazos, but is still rising near the gulf. It is now many feet above the highest water mark ever known.

In Waller county there is great destitution among the sufferers and appeals have been sent to the mayors of all the larger cities of the state for aid in the way of clothing and food.

Through railroad traffic on all the principal roads of the state is still suspended. Gov. Sayers received a telegram signed by a committee of citizens of Fulshear, Fort Bend county, stating that thousands of people in that county are starving and appealing for immediate aid.

At 8 o'clock last night Deputy Sheriff Swearingin made this statement over the long-distance telephone from Sealey: "I am so dumfounded by the extent of the disaster that I hardly know how to talk about it. Fully 200 lives have been lost within a radius of twenty-five miles of Sealey. Last night and today nearly 100 have been lost near what is known locally as The Mound. This is a small piece of high land three miles from Sealey and near San Phillips.

"Crowded in among these poor human beings are cattle, horses, hogs, mules and other domestic animals, as uncontrollable as the poor negroes. There is not a cabin or other bit of shelter—not so much as a tree—on The Mound, there is not a mouthful of food to eat, clean water to drink or a spot where the tired and weak and sick can rest. The nearest point of land is more than three miles away, and no human being could live in the raging torrents who would try to reach it. Many have drowned in making the attempt.

"Relief has not yet reached the flood victims in this section. Thirteen dead bodies have been recovered near the town of Brookshire, thirteen miles from here. Forty-five persons are reported missing and given up for drowned above Sealey. About 400 persons are isolated on a small piece of land in the Brazos bottoms, three miles from Brookshire. About 400 more are similarly surrounded at San Phillips, three miles from Sealey. Unless relief can soon reach these two isolated places the 800 lives will be lost. Many will die as it is from hunger, exposure and exhaustion.

"The water is running through the town of Brookshire, something never before known. The sixty-five lives reported lost here were in a radius of Sealey, but this town is not in danger. We cannot estimate the situation beyond the limits mentioned. The whole face of the country here is a seething sea.

"Twenty-two counties are submerged to a greater or less extent, and thousands of acres of cotton lands are under water. The loss of cotton yield is estimated at from 15,000 to 30,000 bales in each county, entailing a monetary loss of fully $5,000,000. It is estimated that the damage to other property, including loss of live stock, will approximate $7,000,000, making a total due to the floods of $15,000,000.

War Department Appointed To.
Secretary of War Alger has received the following telegram from Gov. Sayers:

"Austin, Texas, July 5.—To the Secretary of War Department, Washington: Please immediately order by wire boats at Galveston to ascend rivers, using launches and yaws to rescue people from the waters which are widespread over the lands of the Lower Brazos. Please also order commanding officer at San Antonio to place at my disposal for immediate distribution 10,000 rations. I will recommend the legislature to refund to the United States their value when it next meets, and do not doubt that it will be promptly done. Devastation great. Immense loss of life probable. Prompt action very important. JOSEPH D. SAYERS, Governor."

BISHOP JOHN P. NEWMAN DEAD

Dies at Saratoga After an Illness of Four Weeks.

Saratoga, N. Y., July 6.—Bishop John P. Newman died at his cottage in Saratoga Wednesday afternoon. The bishop was prostrated four weeks ago by creeping paralysis, an affliction which developed about two years ago. For a week the venerable prelate had been dying, a remarkable constitution aiding him in his struggle for life.

Since Sunday, when pneumonia became complicated with the paralysis, the family and physicians have been awaiting the end. Just before he breathed his last the bishop, who had been in a semi-unconscious condition for forty-eight hours, opened his eyes and gave a parting recognition to his wife. A few minutes later Mrs. U. S. Grant and Mrs. Fred Grant arrived at the cottage.

Bishop Randolph S. Foster of Roxbury, Mass., an intimate friend of the dead bishop, has been telegraphed for to take charge of the funeral, which will probably be held in the First Methodist church of Saratoga. Mrs. Newman is in receipt of telegrams and cable messages of sympathy.

Editors Meet in Portland.

Portland, Ore., July 6.—The fourteenth annual convention of the National Editorial association met here Wednesday. Gov. T. T. Geer and Mayor H. A. Storey welcomed the delegates on behalf of the state of Oregon and the city of Portland. H. W. Scott, editor of the Portland Oregonian, also delivered an address of welcome. Joseph B. McCabe of Boston, president of the association, responded briefly. The chairman appointed a committee on credentials, which reported that 447 delegates were entitled to seats in the convention.

Charges After an Absconder.

New York, July 6.—The World says: Detective Charles Heidelberg sailed for Europe yesterday aboard the American liner T. Louis in search of a man who is said to have absconded with more than $500,000 and negotiable bonds and securities. The fugitive was the secretary and treasurer of one of the largest stock-brokerage syndicates in the Wall street district.

United to Defeat W. J. Bryan.

Louisville, Ky., July 6.—Harding men have indisputable proof that William Goebel, the democratic gubernatorial candidate, has combined with Tammany hall and Harrison of Illinois to defeat Bryan for president, and Henry Waterson and the "goldbug" men now control the democratic party machinery.

Kills Mother and Sister.

Topeka, Kan., July 6.—Willie Porter, aged 9 years, at Coats, Kan., pointed a pistol at his baby sister, sitting on her mother's lap, and, with the words, "I'll shoot you," pulled the trigger. The ball passed through the baby's head and the mother's heart, killing both instantly. The boy found the pistol in the hired man's room.

To Discourage Bachelors.

Berlin, July 6.—The Hessian diet has passed a measure requiring bachelors to pay 25 per cent more income tax than married men. It has also placed a tax of five marks per annum on bicycles unless they are used for business purposes. A proposal to tax female bicyclists double was defeated by a narrow majority.

Good Growth of Christian Endeavor Society Last Year.

OLD OFFICERS RE-ELECTED.

No Changes Made in the Central Governing Body—Visitors to Detroit Given an Enthusiastic Welcome—Meetings Begun.

Detroit, Mich., July 6.—The work of the international convention of the Christian Endeavor society began on Wednesday morning when the annual meeting of the United society was held, "Father" Clark presiding. President Clark's annual report showed that the growth of the society in the past year had been 100,000 in round numbers. He found in visiting the west and northwest the enthusiasm especially marked. Cuba and Jamaica were particularly ripe for endeavor work, and even in Spain there was an increase in membership. Reports from England, France and Scandinavia showed that the entire situation was most happy. The quiet-hour movement now had a membership of over 9,000.

The present officers were re-elected as follows: The Rev. Francis D. Clark, president; John Willis Bart, secretary; and William Shaw, treasurer, all of Boston. A committee was appointed to nominate the officers for next year's meeting, which is to be held in London.

The annual report of the treasurer of the publishing department showed that the receipts were $69,067.25, and the disbursements $66,628, leaving a balance of $2,439.25. The Western publishing branch had a balance of $664.68 on hand, after spending $12,563, and the treasurer had $352.92 in the treasury, with gross receipts of $10,051.56.

The president of each state and territorial division was declared elected as trustee of the United Society for one year.

The executive session of the board of trustees was largely devoted to the discussion of matters of interest solely to the association. The Cincinnati boomers were coldly turned down in their attempt to get a snap judgment for the convention of 1901. The trustees quietly buried Cincinnati's claim by deciding that the place for the convention of 1901 should be left to the next annual meeting in London. There is no appeal from this decision.

The trustees also appointed a committee, on recommendation of Toledo clergymen, to exert the influence of the society against the Ohio centennial being kept open on Sunday.

The meeting in "Tent Endeavor" at night was very successful. It opened with a light attendance, but before it closed every one of the 10,000 seats was occupied, and there were 2,000 persons outside the tent. The praise service was rendered by the united choir of 800 voices.

W. H. Strong, chairman of the programme committee, welcomed the visitors to Detroit. The Rev. H. J. Treddler of London responded to the address of welcome.

The Rev. Charles B. Newman, pastor of the Central Christian church, welcomed the visitors in the name of the Detroit clergy in an address setting forth the world-wide character of the Endeavor movement.

Mayor Maybury welcomed the delegates in the name of the city authorities. The rest of the meeting was filled with addresses by the Rev. Milton M. Smith, the Rev. Joseph Walker of Australia, the Rev. E. G. Tewksbury of China, the Rev. L. S. Crawford of Turkey, the Rev. Otis Carey of Japan, the Rev. W. I. Chamberlain of India, and the Rev. C. Scott Williams of Mexico.

TELL-TALE CLAY PIPES.

Prove That People Smoked Long Before Raleigh's Day.

A vast number of clay pipes have been found under conditions which seem to prove that they were deposited long before Raleigh's birth; and a pipe of early date is so utterly unlike the modern form that these could not have been dropped by laborers of the present day. At an antiquarian meeting many years ago an old gentleman told how his grandfather used to give him coppers for wading the Pool Dam at Newcastle-under-Lyme to gather "buck-bane," which the veteran smoked to relieve asthma. That reminiscence carries us back a century and a half, and it is probable that buckbane had been used for asthma "time out of mind." If people were already familiar with the practice of smoking herbs we should have an explanation of the astonishing rapidity with which they took to tobacco. It may be noted that Cartier found the Indians of Hochelaga, on the St. Lawrence, smoking an herb which we recognize from his description as lobelia, as well as tobacco. His sailors did not care for the latter, but the former met with their approval from the first; for it was "as good as drink" to them. The medicine men smoked lobelia before prophesying, and under its effect they raved. Has this property of the weed been tested by the savants?—London Standard.

Cultivation of the Roman Campagna.

Last spring disorders took place at Castel Gandolfo, a village on the Alban hills, provoked by peasants agitating for bread or for land on which to cultivate grain. Prince Barberini, proprietor of much land in the neighborhood, portioned out a part of it, which had for the last 100 years been let for pasture, between 144 peasants. The terms offered to the peasants were simple. They were given a three years' lease of the land on condition that they should cultivate it with maize or wheat, and that one-third of the crops should belong to Prince Barberini and the other two-thirds to the peasants. The first harvest of maize has now been reaped, and the results are most encouraging. The value of the crop is calculated at 6,300 lire, and a third, equal to about 80 pounds, goes into the pockets of Prince Barberini. The wheat has just been sown, and it is expected that it will produce 12,600 lire, of which 4,200 lire, or 160 pounds, will belong to Prince Barberini, who will thus have 240 pounds a year out of land which has yielded him less than 40 pounds a year. In addition, he has assured a good livelihood to 144 starving families.—London Post.

Wild Ducks in Captivity.

Mallards and black ducks, as well as Canada geese, have been hatched under tame ducks, and have taken to the barnyard habits of their foster mothers without fear or distrust of man; still it is safe to pinion the first generation with scissors. It is my opinion that both the blue and green winged teal may be as easily domesticated; but the early domesticators of beasts and birds looked entirely to utility, and so the smaller wild fowl were neglected.—Forest and Stream.

Their Strange Taste.

Moths have strange tastes; they appear in furs in midsummer.—Life.

The Laughing Plant of Arabia.

The "laughing plant" grows in Arabia. It obtains its name from the effects produced by eating its seeds. The natives of the district where the plant grows dry these seeds and reduce them to powder. A small dose of this powder has similar effects to those arising from the excessive use of intoxicants. It causes the most sober person to dance, shout, and laugh, with the boisterous excitement of a madman, and to rush about cutting the most ridiculous capers for about an hour. At the expiration of this exhaustion sets in and the excited person falls asleep, to wake after several hours with no recollection of his antics.

Lofty Isolated Peaks.

The Mauna Loa or Roa, Hawaii, Sandwich Islands, a volcanic mountain, rising directly from the sea, in the form of a truncated cone, height 13,950 feet, is supposed to be the highest isolated mountain in the world. The peak of Tenerife is another example, 12,182 feet, the top being in the shape of a cone, which is in consequence called the Sugar Loaf. A smaller and more perfect one is Stromboli, on one of the Lipari islands, height 3,100 feet above the sea level. In all three cases these mountains form the central part of the islands, their bases being used for the habitation of men and for cultivation.

The Snake Nut.

The "snake nut" tree is a native of Demerara and Guiana. The nuts are about the size of a walnut, and when they are opened the kernel displays a wonderful resemblance to a snake coiled up. There are the head, mouth and eyes, so complete that any one unacquainted with the nut would believe it to be an imitation by human hands and not a freak of nature. This wonderful resemblance to a snake has induced the natives to consider the nut an antidote to snake poison. The tree appears to be peculiar to the lower part of the River Essequibo and its tributaries.

Lake Turns Red.

Lake Morat, in Switzerland, has the curious property of turning red every ten years, owing to the presence of certain aquatic plants, which are not known in any other lake in the world.

Increase in Minor Crimes.

The British home office report for 1897 shows that while serious crimes tend to diminish in England, there is a great increase in minor offenses. By far the larger number of criminals convicted during a year have been convicted of some crime before—a fact that led the home office to conclude "that neither penal servitude nor imprisonment serves to deter the habitual offender from reverting to crime, and it is the habitual offenders who form the bulk of the prison population."

Spending Money.

The average woman who scruples to buy clothes and gets old over lack of money is apt to gnash her teeth over the coin richer women throw away. The majority of women are lucky if they have $500 or $400 a year to spend on themselves. There are at least a dozen women in New York who have $75,000 a year for mere pin money, their dress bills being a separate account.
